Bunyip Show's cattle back at full strength

By Andrew Spierings

This year's Bunyip Show will see its traditional cattle section back at full strength. The blue ribbon competition sees animals from across Victoria compete for glory at this year's show on Sunday 24th March. Many will go on to prestigious competitions at the Royal Melbourne Show.

The competition promises to be a spectacle for all, with animals of all ages from young calves who definitely have the "cute factor" right through to mature bulls who can weigh hundreds of kilograms.

This year the cattle section is overseen by a new Superintendent, Miss Giorgi Boucher, who brings her passion and enthusiasm to the role. The 2019 competition also promises new classes including a novelty cattle handler's class and a new aggregate competition, recognising the best performing exhibitor across a number of local shows.

The cattle section is but one part of this year's Bunyip Show. With a range of free activities, attractions and competitions the 2019 Show promises to be a great day out for the family. For details visit our website at www.bunyipshow.org.au.

Bunyip Beekeeper goes into administration

By Clint Diston

Choose Natural Food trading as 'The Bunyip Beekeeper' has had administrators appointed on 3rd January 2019. The first creditors meeting was held at the offices of the Australian Institute of Company Directors at 367 Collins St, Melbourne on 15th January. The meeting considered whether to appoint a committee of inspection and committee members.

A social media release from Beekeeping Victoria (Australia) stated; "once the dust settles and the administrators have worked everything out, all of you will be able to continue you're already paid for packages through Bunyip Beekeeper. It is also only available to people who own their hives outright if this was unclear previously."

Beekeeping Victoria is also helping people with hives that need them serviced. Please contact Beekeeping Victoria via their Facebook page for more information or visit ASIC at www.insolvencynotices.asic.gov.au for information about the company.

William Rogers the principal of the business has been contacted for comment.

Bunyip Tennis Club news

A very happy New Year from everyone at Bunyip Tennis Club.

Mid-Week Ladies Tennis

Congratulations to both our ladies' teams who reached the Grand Final of WGTA mid-week ladies competition. In a tightly fought match Bunyip Orange, consisting of Vanessa Kent, Eleanor Whyte, Julie Kidd and Helen Ross, took the title for the second year running defeating Bunyip Purple, consisting of Leonie Miller, Bec Kurrle, Monique Giesen and Deb Armstrong.

Following the match all teams in the competition enjoyed an 'end of season' lunch at Bunyip Tennis Club and we were honoured to be joined by Elva Hamill, a well known local tennis player who was celebrating her 90th birthday. A huge thank you to Garfield Country Style Meats & Smokehouse for the fantastic food and to John Preston for his on-going support of Bunyip Tennis Club.

Lois Brown Open Round Robin Tournament

If you are feeling inspired by the Australian Open, why not take part in our bi-annual round robin tournament which takes place on 3rd February 2019. This year we are holding the competition in memory of our dear friend and fellow tennis player Lois Brown, a long-time member of the club, who sadly passed away last year. As part of Tennis Victoria's Melbourne Tennis Month, it is free to enter, and is open to everyone - you don't have to be a member of the club. There will be a junior and senior competition with a free sausage sizzle and refreshments.

To enter, just turn up on the day or register your entry via our website www.bunyiptc.com.

Hillview Bunyip Aged Care celebrates silver anniversary

By Roman Kulkewycz

Hillview Bunyip Aged Care will officially celebrate 25 years of providing high quality aged care to residents of Bunyip and surrounding districts by holding an art show.

The Silver Anniversary Art Show will be opened by Gary Blackwood MP in the evening of Friday 29th March and the exhibition will run until Sunday 31st March.

An anniversary cake will be made to mark this special occasion and will be shared by those present at the art show opening.

To be part of this historic event, bookings are essential, and can be made by contacting Hillview Bunyip Aged Care on 03 5629 6096 during office hours.

Comparing now with then

By Roman Kulkewycz

Stationed in Darwin, Naval Chief Petty Officer Daniel Ryan, aged 33, was recently visiting his mother Annette Wade in Drouin. After a family catch up she suggested to him that he should visit Hillview Bunyip Aged Care resident, Henry Page, who is a retired Naval Commander from the Engineering Department.

Annette is a nurse at Hillview, and thought that Mr Page would like Daniel to visit and talk about life in the Navy today, and compared to when he was in the Navy.

Mr Page was delighted to see Daniel and soon both men were deep in conversation. They enjoyed each other's company.

Although both men are Naval Officers, Mr Page graduated to his rank from the Officer Training School, whilst Daniel, who has been in the Navy for 13 years began his career as an Able Seaman and graduated to Chief Petty Officer through promotion.

Talkin' Fishin'... Restocking

By The TackleMan®

For those of us who still like to tie their own fishing flies like me, not for any cost saving benefit but just for the pure pleasure or therapy, the tools are just as important as the fur and fibres and materials used.

One of those materials is deer hair. As you cut the fibres from the hide, the tips need to be aligned so they can be tied on the fly appearing neatly in line. A deer hair stacker solves this issue perfectly by loading hair in the tube. Bang the tube's end on your bench, remove the end cap, then cut the butt end to the desired length and tie in place on the fly. On average you will pay for one of these is $20-$25 each for this essential tool, but why not make your own for around $2 to $3 each.

This tool is neither complicated to make nor an engineering marvel, but that's a bit unfair because I would be lost without this handy device. All that is required is a tube with a flared opening at one end so to make it easier to put the fibres inside it, and a removable cap at the other end, both become aligned together after cap has been packed down.

Most times the size you will need for average use is a ½ inch and ¾ inch diameter models, but feel free to make a whole sized collection if you wish. I use the term inches only because that's how copper pipe is still sold, welcome to the almost metric age! If you are resourceful enough you can easily get two clean pieces of pipe in the correct diameter from your friendly plumber or purchase at Bunnings. A foot long of each is more than you'll need, with the total length of the finished item only being 2 inches for the larger and 1½ inches for the smaller diameter.

The corresponding copper end caps are only a couple of dollars. Use a plumbers flaring tool to open the end of the pipe in the shape you see in the photos; watch any YouTube video if you're not sure how to do this safely. Then cut to the pipe to length, and file and sand away any rough edges. You can also rub the pipe to a finished shine with steel wool if you like. End caps should be easy to remove and not fight with you or you'll have hair all over you and the bench.

So create your own deer hair stacker and look forward to your creations and subsequent trophy fish. Welcome to a new season of fishing and with no boat ramp fees about to be introduced... and about time!

Catcha...

The reasons are black and white

There's no questioning the facts. Bushfires can start quickly and threaten lives within minutes. When it comes to fire, what you need to do is black and white. Check Fire Danger Ratings in your district daily, and monitor conditions.

Most bushfire deaths happen close to home, so on high-risk fire days, leaving early, before a fire starts, is always the safest option.

Monthly local police update (21st December 2018)

By Sergeant Danny Hower, Victoria Police

I hope everyone has had a good and happy end to 2018, and thank you for all the very positive assistance and input that we've had in so many different areas locally during past few years. There are some very good people around and I'm proud to be associated with everyone.

I thought it might be good to round off the past 12 months and start the new-year with some local area police statistics and information.

When a crime or some other pre-determined occurrences are reported to police in Victoria they are initially electronically recorded as an 'Incident' on our Law Enforcement Assistance Program (LEAP). Some of the "other" occurrences recorded as an 'Incident' on LEAP include Missing Persons reports, Family Violence Incidents and Fires. Generally this list of Incidents does not include traffic offences or traffic fines unless they are of a criminal nature, or until they are paid or determined otherwise. Confused yet?

An Incident in the LEAP system will then often have what Victoria Police call 'Sub Incidents' attached. These 'Sub Incidents' are generally additional criminal offences or occurrences committed by the same person that can be related to the initial Incident – or something like that. For your info I haven't been successful in finding 'Sub Incidents' in the dictionary.

The following table is a total of police Sub Incidents (not Incidents) by local geographic location that were reported and investigated between 21st December 2017 and 20th December 2018 for your perusal and discussion... as we say in the business.

VICTORIA POLICE

Summary of Sub Incidents 2018

Pakenham / Officer / Beaconsfield	5,756
Drouin	1,588
Longwarry / Longwarry North / Labertouche	396
Bunyip	143
Nar Nar Goon	132
Garfield	94
Tynong / Tynong North / Maryknoll	83
Bunyip North / Garfield North / Tonimbuk	40
Cora Lynn / Iona / Vervale / Modella	39

In our system if an Incident isn't reported – then it probably isn't recorded – and if it's not recorded – it doesn't look like it happened. Some of the previous numbers might look overwhelming but often increased numbers can be attributed to higher population areas and increased / targeted police activities.

For more information and facts regarding police statistics check out the Crime Statistics Agency website at www.crimestatistics.vic.gov.au.

Please keep communicating with and looking after each other. If you can't then try walking away and getting some help somewhere else. We're always around somewhere.

Please contact us for any assistance or advice. 000 if you think you need police or emergency service attendance, or email / letterbox for anything else. We enjoy the contact and it is all relevant somewhere.

Coffee with a cop

By Roman Kulkewycz

Biddy Martha's Café in Bunyip was the venue on 18th December for the Casey and Cardinia Councils' sponsorship of 'Coffee with a Cop', an initiative for locals to meet with members of the Victorian Police and discuss any issues of concern in a friendly relaxed environment. Many locals packed Biddy Martha's and enjoyed a free coffee while mingling with the 20 plus strong police officers attending. A Garfield resident expressed concern that the speed limit through the main street of Garfield being too fast. Others asked police to clarify road rules, ask about car safety, about life as a police officer and showed support for the 'Together We Can' campaign which aims at preventing and ending family violence campaign.

What do we do at BDCH

Our regular activities include different art classes on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday each week, to cater for a range of different styles and disciplines.

On Monday we also have Big Fish games for anyone who wants to join in. Our ladies play a very competitive game of Samba on Tuesdays. On Wednesdays Ron does Genealogy and we have computer classes available on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday each week. We can help you with your mobile phone or tablet and are available to help you with your computer needs – just make an appointment. On Thursday afternoons Rose and Kath are here for a 'Cuppa and a Chat' – call in and see them. Our 'Singing Group' meets in the evening.

At the Bunyip Hall we have Butterfly Dance and Yoga on Monday, and different groups of Tai Chi on Tuesday and Saturday.

During the year we arrange bus and train trips for members and friends and host various 'parties' and social gatherings.

Contact Davina on 03 5629 5877 to see what we have planned for 2019... or pop in for a chat. Or visit our website at www.bdch.com.au.

FREE Wi Fi and Internet access are available. We can also provide typing, photocopying, scanning and laminating services at competitive rates. We are friendly and reliable, however we are not commercial printers and so will only undertake small jobs.
