Additional aged care beds for Hillview Bunyip Aged Care

By Roman Kulkewycz

The Hillview Bunyip Aged Care Board of Management is excited to announce that extensions at Hillview are well under way which will provide a net increase of eight beds for the facility.

The total cost of these extensions is $2.3 million which includes a generous Grant of $1.5 million provided by the Department of Health for the construction of rooms to assist people with Dementia. Federal Member for Monash, Russell Broadbent MP has been instrumental in assisting to secure the funding. He has always held the Hillview Board of Management in high regard and in a speech in Parliament he once described the Hillview Board of volunteers as true heroes.

Russell visited Hillview last week and accompanied by Hillview Board members and building contractor, Brad Lamble was taken on a guided tour of the building progress of the new rooms.

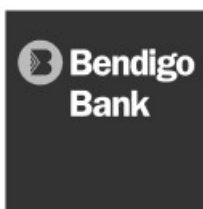

When completed the new extension will comprise twelve new rooms which will add an extra eight beds at Hillview for a total of 58 beds.

All rooms will feature wireless technology, high energy rating, larger than existing room and have ceiling tracks so that residents can age in place.

Three new communal areas with fire place, family room, TV lounge and new outside court yard area with a variety of uses. There will be a substantial increase in staff in proportion with the increase in beds. Hillview is the largest employer in Bunyip and the surrounding districts. Hillview Bunyip Aged Care is a not-for-profit community managed facility.

Hillview CEO, Mr Frank Hoff said the completion of the extensions will be in early next year.

Hillview Quilt & Craft Show attracts many visitors

By Roman Kulkewycz

This years' 14th Annual Quilt and Craft Show at Hillview Bunyip Aged Care last weekend featured over 100 quilts on display and the beautiful sunny weekend weather attracted visitors from many parts of Gippsland and further afield to view the magnificent quilts on show.

The Bunyip Men's Shed held a Garage Sale and a sausage sizzle which was popular throughout the day.

Others preferred to enjoy a hot cuppa and some delicious Devonshire tea.

Exhibition organiser Barbara Dickinson was delighted with the response and said that the proceeds from the show would go to Hillview Bunyip Aged Care for the benefit of residents and staff.

Introducing Nicole Morris

By Roman Kulkewycz

It was a delight to meet the new Branch Manager at Bunyip & District Community Bank® Branch, Nicole Morris. She is friendly and greeted me with a warm, welcoming smile. Nicole looks forward to working with businesses and individuals to assist them with their finances. Here is some more information about her.

I am originally from NSW having been born in Newcastle. My father was in banking for 30 years and I have been in banking for nearly 20, so I guess it's in my genes. I have lived in NSW, NT, SA, TAS and now VIC. I have lived in Gippsland for around eight years. I have two younger brothers both of whom live in Sydney, they are married with seven children between them. My parents live in Tea Gardens up in NSW.

Where do you live?

I live with my hubby, Neil near Korumburra.

What do you like about Bunyip?

I am discovering that there is a real sense of community within the town. I have lived in small country towns growing up but never really understood what that sense of community could be like until I started working here. Oh and the view out the front of the branch is just amazing.

Your favourite pastime or hobby?

In my spare time I love to get out with Neil on our motorbikes and I am very much looking forward to the warmer weather so I can ride without feeling cold. We also enjoy going camping and hiking when we can get away. When we have a weekend at home I enjoy relaxing in the garden.

What type of movies do you enjoy and which is your favourite?

I grew up watching Fred Astaire and Ginger Rodgers movies so I have a love of music and dance related movies. My most recent favourite movie is 'Burlesque'.

Do you follow or play any sport/s?

No, I am not a huge sports fan. I enjoy going to the MCG to watch a game of football or cricket but it's more about the atmosphere than what is happening on the field.

Describe yourselves in two sentences.

I am an easy going person that loves to laugh. I love life and I love an adventure.

Do you have a most memorable moment?

I was a volunteer at the Melbourne Commonwealth Games. I will always remember standing near the finish line during the final of the Men's 100m. The roar of the crowd during the race was just phenomenal. The hairs on my arms were standing on end for that 10 seconds in time.

What are you likes?

Finding a road that I've never travelled on before and just exploring it and discovering what new things it holds.

What are if your favourite food and drink?

It's a toss up between coffee and red wine for my favourite drink, it depends on the occasion I guess. As for food, I love to go to a restaurant with Neil where we can relax and enjoy the atmosphere. I don't have a particular favourite food but love to explore different foods.

Is there something unique about you that not many know?

I have an Education Degree from University specialising in Mathematics teaching and Special Education. I taught at the Distance Education Centre in Darwin during my final year of my degree but have not used it since I left nearly 20 years ago.

What do you look forward to in your role as the Branch Manager of our Community Bank® Branch?

I am looking forward to getting to know people in the local area and working with everyone (both my team at the branch and the community members that bank with us) to continue with the support that we give back to the community through our Sponsorships and Grants Programs. Our goal is to be able to grow our business so that we can give back into the community even more than we do now.

How does banking with the Bunyip & District Community Bank® Branch benefit our community?

Did you know that your banking has a direct impact on how much support we can give back to our community? We have a full range of products that all the other major banks offer and the profits that we make as a business feed directly into the funds that are available for our Sponsorships and Grants Programs. By you supporting us with your banking you support the community that you live in and love.

Thank you to those that already support us with your banking, and to those that don't, please consider us as an option for all your banking needs.

Thoughts on Bunyip and the surrounding community

By Mal Dwyer

Three months ago (on 10th June) I arrived here in Bunyip as a visitor from WA. I am a retired widower who came on the request of very good friends who reside in nearby Iona on a small farmlet. He and I served in the Australian military under the old national service in the late 1960's. We both went overseas during our time and for 50 years we have been friends ever since. They (in their wisdom) had chosen to head north for the winter and the warmer climes of Queensland. I think they got quite a shock when I accepted the challenge to come and look after their animals and enjoy beautiful West Gippsland. I hadn't budgeted on the enormously cold winter which I am sure you would all agree was extremely cold and very windy. I usually don't worry too much about the cold but it was so much more than I was ready for until I became acclimatised. It was then that I began to realise that this part of the world is very special. My three and a bit months is drawing to a close and I want to review and share my experiences before I head back to the west.

One of my first activities was to head off to the local footy and watch the local Bunyip Bulldogs do battle with the neighbouring Garfield Stars. It was a terrific day although the result went the wrong way, but the locals made me feel welcome. Then it was back to the 'ale house' on the hill where we enjoyed a few frothies. I knew I was in a community that was inclusive and super friendly.

My landlords had left me their second vehicle so I journeyed up into the highlands to see some snow and some absolutely stunning scenery. Jindivick, Neerim South and Nooji were all on my agenda along with some wonderful coffee to keep me warm. It really is such beautiful country and so green.

Next, as a keen golfer, I sought out the local course at the Garfield Country Club. I met the club acting manager Lisa Matthews who made me feel very welcome. I found the course challenging but the wind factor got the better of me. I have been back a few times and highly commend the course and the locals who welcomed me with open arms. I am not finished there just yet either!

Coming from the west, often the tyranny of distance can be taxing but here in the enchanting West Gippsland, the closeness of the nearby towns makes one feel such a part of the community. The marvellous little town of Garfield just up the road is a real gem. I have been to two concerts in that wonderful Garfield Picture Theatre and also attended a terrific night of Christmas in July in the classy brewster's cafe which was a special night where they went to extraordinary lengths to create a great Christmas atmosphere. I commend you all to not miss it next year.

Early on in this adventure, two great men travelled east from the bigger smoke to hopefully start a men's discussion group under the auspices of COTA (Council on the Ageing). It was to perhaps help some men talk about the challenges of facing retirement, ageing and generally dealing with finally leaving work. It was a bitterly cold morning but 24 men (all over 50) gathered and we broke the ice (pardon the pun). Through some good guidance from John Douth and Spencer Wanklyn we settled into some great discussion and all contributed. It was a resounding success and has flourished. What was impressive was the fact that men travelled from other towns to contribute and encourage all in attendance to feel included and important. On the 5th September we held our third gathering and it has helped many guys to speak about issues they probably thought they never could. I highly commend it.

I could not forget to talk about the incredibly versatile Bunyip & District Community House. The delightful Davina would make anybody who stuck their head in the door feel welcome. The help, guidance and warm feeling of community draws all types in and it is wonderful to see lots of seniors in there getting tutoring in the latest computers and software. Well done. I peeped in the window regularly to see all the upcoming events and spotted that there is a choral group of singers who gather each Thursday night to exercise their vocal chords under the tutelage of Sarah Smethurst. Although it is only a small gathering I joined as a lone male and we have tackled some great songs with gusto. I have really enjoyed the time and encourage others to give it a go.

One of the great conduits of this region is the marvellous V-line service that runs through the community. It is a great connection with the "outside world" and keeps us all connected. Whatever people think, the train service is so convenient and we should be grateful for it. It connects us to Melbourne, the Pakenham Racecourse, the marvellous Longwarry Market, the 'big sister' town of Warragul and the lovely Drouin which have all impressed me so much and I will miss it all when I return home but I thank you all for your genuine hospitality and warmth. I must return home now but don't be too surprised if you see me back real soon.

Bene gratia... Arrivederci...

Report on St Thomas' Bunyip Lecture Four

By Chris Bennie

On the afternoon of 2nd September the fourth of the Bunyip Lecture series for 2018 was given at St Thomas' hall. The lecturer, Dr Brian Chapman, is a well-known professional pianist, teacher and performer who has broadcast frequently and recorded for the ABC.

His topic for this lecture was a challenging one, its title, "Grief Denial and Rage: A Revisionist View of Beethoven's 'Moonlight' Sonata". In it he set out to show that this piece of music has been widely misunderstood, from Beethoven's own time to the present. It was believed that the Sonata was specifically written for its dedicatee, Countess Julie Guicciardi, and that she was the composer's 'Immortal Beloved'. Neither of these things was true, rather both were instances of 19th Century "fake news".

These myths were not disproved until 45 years after Beethoven's death. In the mean time influential pianists such as Franz Liszt and Hans von Bülow, and Beethoven's publishers, who named it 'Moonlight' Sonata, changed the time signature of the first movement to a slower speed and made other changes to support the lovelorn composer image. When the truth was discovered in 1872, nothing was done to correct the interpretation and performances by famous pianists to this day have reflected the myth, not the reality.

Brian believes that in this Sonata, Beethoven was dealing with the fact of his own growing deafness, and that the first movement should actually be played nearly twice as fast as has normally been done, as given in Beethoven's Autograph score and in modern Urtext editions. When played in this way, the first movement becomes an expression of dumbstruck grief and the following movements express denial and rage, respectively.

Brian concluded his illustrated talk by performing the whole sonata with this new approach, to great applause from those present.

Spend time fishing at Garfield Lake over school holidays

By Roman Kulkewycz

The Garfield Lake, situated behind the southern goal posts at the Garfield Recreation Reserve has been stocked with 250 trout in time for the school holidays which begin this Friday. People still need a current Fishing License which can be purchased at the Garfield Post Office or Sports Shops and all rules in regards to fishing, such as bag limits should be observed. It is recommended as a matter of safety that any children that cannot swim should be accompanied by an adult who can swim.

Cordelia's Potted Operas upcoming events

By Stee Cordelia, Artistic Director for Savoy Opera Company

Cordelia's Potted Operas performance of 'The Magic Flute' on Saturday 25th August was a sell out at the Bunyip Hall. Funds raised from the concert will go towards the fee for our awesome accompanist, David McNicol, and for our rehearsal space. Cordelia's Potted Operas is a not-for-profit organisation and at this stage have not received any funding, but we are always looking for assistance.

Many of our staunch supporters were there; Susan and David Anderson, Chris Kelly, Mary and Alan Cole, Dorothy, Barbara and Gloria, just to name a few. The performance was received with great enthusiasm and appreciation by the audience.

I think many of the audience are still reeling from the amazing singing of Jessica Boyd, who was our 'Queen of the Night'. Maurice Wan was extremely creative in his portrayal of 'Papageno' using available props as well as exits and entries to entertain the audience – he even threatened to use the ceiling fan to end his life if he could not find a wife. The three ladies were full of vigour and fun, and our narrator, Natalie Reid, sang the role of 'Papagena' as well as keeping the audience up to speed with what happening in the opera.

Thank you to St Kevin's College in Melbourne for training the three delightful young boys who sang with confidence and are now all inspired to be opera singers.

As usual we had afternoon tea with the audience and many stories were shared. Cordelia's Potted Operas has grown in strength from our first performance 3 years ago and continues to attract emerging artists.

Bunyip is special to us, and we have collected many followers over the years and we are grateful of this. We will continue to bring opera to the country.

Our next concert is on Saturday 30th September at 2pm in the Bunyip Hall. It is titled 'Welcome to Spring / Heroes, Heroines and Villains from Opera and Operetta'.

Thank you once again to all our followers from Bunyip and surrounds. Tickets remain at $25 with afternoon tea included. You can buy tickets through Trybooking or at the door from 1:30pm on the day of the concert.

I hope to see many of you at our next concert. For information visit www.cordeliaspottedoperas.com.au.

Talkin' Fishin'... For the first timers

By The TackleMan®

For the first timers who have limited or no fishing experience, time to bite the bullet and get some lessons. If you're seriously lacking in the skills and knowledge but have plenty of enthusiasm, it's not too late, it's time to get lessons. There's no shame in it, only gain. Nobody thinks twice about golf or driving lessons, why any difference? And with far less people watching you if you do stuff things up.

Find someone willing to teach you, preferably older than you, as they tend to have more patience, unless you're the older one yourself, then that may be difficult. So find a young and keen competitive angler willing to share what they've learnt themselves from others.

Ask around. There are many fishing clubs, fishing clinics, with most members willing to share their knowledge. Plenty will claim to know it all, but the last thing you want is to pick up someone else's bad habits or poor casting techniques.

So a one-on-one lesson is your best option, and get the best you can afford. Consider fishing schools, guided fishing, one-day trips or group tours. You'll find you will learn more than you can take in all at once, so try booking a few lessons to get the most out of all that experience. Also makes a great gift idea!

You'll develop your own style eventually, but get the basics down-pat first. Casting, accuracy, knots, baits, rigs and reels with further information gathered from the huge selection of books, magazines, DVD and YouTube clips out there.

A lot of old books still have valuable information that never dates. Sure the gear updates, methods get forgotten, but some methods never die out.

I personally have taught ages ranging from 4 to 83, male and female, with no noticeable difference in ability. None ever thought of giving up (not that I know of), and what was important was finding the right method of teaching for them, the one that they understood best of all. I get great pleasure in seeing the look of success on their face, old or young, when they just get it... and catch their first fish!

Launch of Mark Knight's watercolour cartoon 'The Picnic Party' a huge success

By Mt. Cannibal & District Preservation Group Inc.

The iconic watercolour 'The Picnic Party' by Tonimbuk local Mark Knight, was auctioned at an exclusive limited seat function at Jinks Creek Winery in Tonimbuk, on Saturday 1st September.

An enthusiastic crowd of over 100 people was reminded by local Auctioneer Gerard Collins of 'the importance that public support plays in protecting the beautiful local area from inappropriate development.'

He stressed that this special area should be protected at all cost before leading a spirited auction for the gold-framed original piece, which depicts the local fauna enjoying the peace and tranquillity of the Mount Cannibal Reserve.

What followed was a fabulous result with the artwork selling for $5,500.

The Mt. Cannibal & District Preservation Group would like to thank award-winning Herald Sun cartoonist Mark Knight, Jinks Creek Winery owners Abi and Andrew Clarke, auctioneer Gerard Collins, the local businesses that donated raffle prizes and everyone who attended this successful event.

All who attended had a great time and look forward to any planned follow up event in the future.

The launch also saw the sale of limited edition prints of the original 'Picnic Party' begin. There are only 250 prints that have been created and they are selling fast with interest being generated from a wide audience.

Go to the Stop The Bunyip North Quarry's online shop at www.stopthebunyipnorthquarry.com/shop, where these prints and a range of t-shirts are available for purchase with all proceeds going towards the funding effort to stop the proposed quarry.

"All proceeds go directly to the community group fighting the Hanson proposed super-quarry in Bunyip North," Mt. Cannibal & District Preservation Group President Bill Pearson said.

"And we want to be ready to defend the area from all unwanted invaders who will bring only destruction in their relentless search for profits."

For more information on the proposed quarry and how you can help or donate, please visit www.stopthebunyipnorthquarry.com.

Health Matters – Chickenpox

By Bunyip Pharmacy

Chickenpox is a highly infectious disease, which mostly affects children. It is generally a mild disease, which does not last long in healthy children, but may cause serious illness or death in people who have lowered immunity. Adults who develop chickenpox generally become unwell and may have more serious complications such as pneumonia.

Chickenpox is caused by the varicella-zoster virus. The same virus also causes herpes zoster (shingles). This virus is present in large numbers in and behind the nose, and is spread from child to child by sneezing and coughing. It usually takes 2 to 3 weeks for the symptoms to appear after infection with the virus.

Symptoms of chickenpox

Initially, the child (or adult) may have flu-like symptoms, including a fever, headache, backache and loss of appetite. This is quickly followed by a red and spotty rash, which soon develops into blisters. The rash normally starts on the chest and back and then spreads to other parts of the body including the face, scalp, arms and legs. The rash is usually very itchy. After a day or two the blisters form a crust or a scab and this peels off in five to 20 days. Some children develop only a few spots and others have them all over their bodies — including their vagina, mouth and up their nose.

Treatment of chickenpox

For some children, the rash may be no more than a passing inconvenience, but for others it can be very unpleasant. Treatment is therefore aimed at controlling the symptoms.

Asking your child not to scratch will probably fall on deaf ears, however it is worth trying to distract them as much as you can. Cut their fingernails very short and make sure that their hands and fingernails are kept clean. If the rash or sores are very itchy, bathe the child in a warm (but not too hot) bath with half a cup of baking soda. Your pharmacist or doctor will also be able to recommend some anti-itch preparations if your child is distressed. Calamine lotion can also be useful.

Paracetamol (but not aspirin) should be given as directed to reduce the fever and ease headaches. Ask your child to drink plenty of fluids. Don't worry if they don't eat as much as usual while they are sick — this will be fine for a day or two.

As chickenpox is caused by a virus, no antibiotics will be prescribed, however, they may be offered if your child develops a bacterial infection as a result of having chickenpox.

Antiviral medicine can be used to treat people with complicated or severe chickenpox, or those with lowered immunity.

Preventing infection

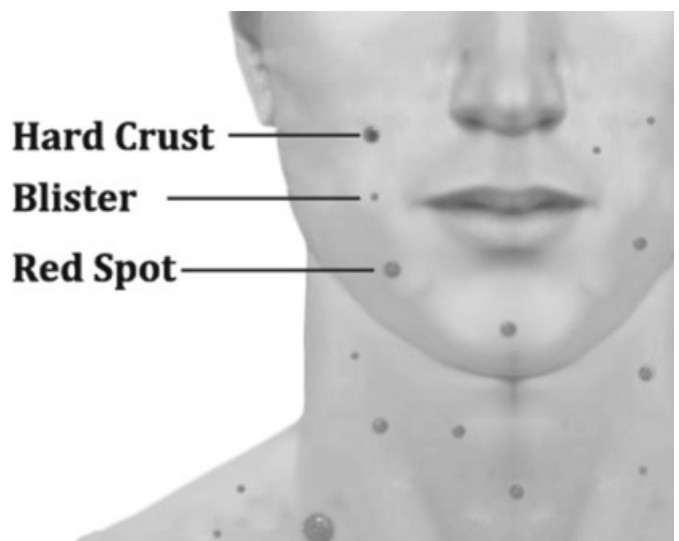

Vaccines for the prevention of chickenpox are available in Australia. Chickenpox vaccine is recommended by the National Health and Medical Research Council (NHMRC) for all children at 18 months. An additional dose may be given to children under 14 years to increase protection, but this second dose is currently not funded on the National Immunisation Program Schedule.

Vaccination is also recommended for adolescents aged 14 years and over and adults who have not had chickenpox or who have not had the chickenpox vaccine previously. Two doses of vaccine are required in adolescents and adults for adequate protection.

Chickenpox is most infectious from two days before the rash is present until after scabs have formed on the blisters — this takes about seven days. Do not send your child to school or pre-school during this time. Your child can return to school, preschool or day care seven days after the first spots appear, as long as all of the blisters have scabbed over.

For children who have not really been sick with chickenpox this can be a bit annoying. Remember, however, for some children and adults, chickenpox can be a very serious illness.

The material provided is intended for Australian residents only.

Tynong Dominican Sisters' Family Fun Race Day

By Mother Mary Micaela O.P., Superior of Rosary Convent Tynong

Mother Mary Micaela

The big news for friends of the convent for September is the forthcoming convent fundraising day at the Pakenham Racecourse just across the road from the convent. The Family Fun Race Day will be held on 24th September between 11am to 5pm.

The race day is sponsored by several friends of the convent including 'Speedy Seedlings' our nearest neighbour and 'Pakenham Racing Club'. Sponsors of the races also have the right to name their races. Watch out for individuality in the names!

What we are aiming to do is to combine the fun of a gala day with a happy day at the races – yes there will be real races with real horses on the race-track. We will also have a tipping competition for those of our patrons who like to pay a modest amount to assess their judgment of horseflesh and their knowledge of form. For the children there will be running races with really good prizes. For all of us there will also be food stalls including a sausage sizzle and other lovely edibles and drinkables.

There will be a market stall combined with a jumble stall where many bargains will be able to be found. Rapid raffles with a raffle wheel will also take place in the same area, for those who love to have a bargain combined with a mild game of chance.

Please make this event known to all your friends. The convent at the moment has only two wings completed and so needs the other two wings and a permanent chapel. We would like to share this convent fundraiser with Bunyip and surrounding districts who have taken such an interest in the convent. We really enjoy being here in the country and we would like to share this happy day at the Pakenham Racecourse with all of you.

Local residents seek new train carpark

By Roman Kulkewycz

The residents of Bunyip and surround districts have begun a petition to the Minister for Transport to upgrade the existing carpark at the Bunyip Railway Station and to have passenger trains to and from the city stop hourly to adequately meet the growing needs of the Bunyip community.

The current carpark is a one way gravel track and is grossly inadequate for the current needs of the community. Petition forms can be located throughout the district.

This month we had two speakers from Alfred Health Care who explained the Carer Services that are available. It seems you apply to 'My Aged Care' firstly, then the next stage is 'Regional Assessment', then onto the 'Commonwealth Home Support' which covers things like Home Help, Personal and Flexible Care. Another way is 'Comprehensive Assessment for Aged Care' which covers residential respite and permanent care. Most of us found it a bit confusing and hope that we won't have to apply for these services in the near future. We had a morning filled with fun and lots of healthy competition at the Warragul Bowling Alley. After the players selected their shoes and bowling ball the games began. Some had better skills than others, but everyone enjoyed the fun of playing games. Rotary Club of Bunyip–Garfield

On 18th October it will be a watershed moment for our club. On this day we are hosting a 'Say NO to BULLYING Day' for all year 5 students at Nar Nar Goon, Garfield, Bunyip, Longwarry and Labertouche Primary Schools plus year 5 students from St James and Columba. 170 students will attend the event to be held at the Bunyip Recreation Reserve at no cost to them. The Rotary Club of Bunyip Garfield would like to thank the Garfield and Bunyip Op Shops, The Bunyip Community Bank, Countrystyle Meats, Nine Mile Fresh, Victorian

Police, Leigh Muir and Rotary District 9820 for their generous support. The major presenters will be from Project Rockit who have won awards for their messaging about bullying, including cyberbullying and bystanders. We look forward to great day and hope that we go some way to prevent this issue that is pervading all aspects of life. The major aims are to give children the skills to recognise if someone is being bullied, to recognise what cyberbullying is and that even as a bystander they are able to do something.
 For more information visit our Facebook page.

Bunyip Fire Brigade – ready to serve

The Bunyip brigade would like to thank the community for their generous support when we held the Drought Assistance BBQ on 1st September. The amount raised was in excess of $1,600 which has been passed onto the Lions 'Need for Feed'. The funds will be used to support their efforts in getting feed to farmers in need in the East Gippsland area.

Recently the brigade purchased a new Forward Command Vehicle (FCV) which will be used as a commander's vehicle and crew transport. The purchase was only possible because of the generosity of members of the community plus the fundraising efforts of our members.

Please note that fire restrictions will come in earlier than normal this year. So now is the time to start your clean up. Remember that if you are burning off you MUST abide by the Cardinia Shire's Open Air Burning Policy which can be found on their website. We also suggest that you register your burn off with ESTA by phoning 1800 668 511. This is a free service and prevents the brigade being called out to a False Alarm.

For more residential fire safety information, visit the CFA website www.cfa.vic.gov.au.
